THREE MEMBERS OF THE WASHINGTON C. H. "hostess" team set up a card table at the Wilson Field home plate to check the guest list of teams coming for the four state regional girls' softball tournament which opens here Friday. Leona Stratton, Jeddy Graves and Ruthie Edwards are members of the Warner Service Station girls' team which is the local representative in the tournament. (Record-Herald photo)

"Softball Capital of Ohio"—For two years local softball fans have been claiming that Washington C. H. deserves this title, as the center of softball in Ohio.

That claim is even further strengthened this week-end when the first of two big four state regional softball tournaments are played here.

Eight champion girls team from four states will take part in the Amateur Softball Association of America's east-central regional tournament which will be played at Wilson Field Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

State champion girls' teams from Ohio, Michigan, and Ohio Virginia; city champions from Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and a host team from Washington C. H. will make up the field.

Winner of this girls' regional tournament will go directly into the world's championship play to be held in Toronto, Canada, September 7-12 where regional winners from all over the U. S. and some foreign countries will compete.

The complete entry list for the tournament is not available yet, as some state tournaments are not finished, but Max Lawrence, tournament manager here, said today the list should be in by Thursday morning and the schedule announced at that time.

The tournament will be a double (Please turn to Page Three)

West To Renew Treaty Talk If Soviet Sticks To Subject

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Big Three Western Powers have agreed to Russia's demand that work be resumed on a comprehensive peace treaty with Austria if the Soviets are willing to stick to the issues and finish the job.

The United States, in a note similar to ones dispatched from London and Paris, said it is willing to shelve the abbreviated treaty which the West has been pressing on this understanding:

"That there will be no extraneous issues raised and that the Soviet government is prepared to conclude a treaty for Austria which will insure Austria's political and economic independence."

After more than 200 sessions by deputy foreign ministers of the four nations met with no success in agreeing to a full Austrian treaty, the U. S., Britain and France proposed a short version.

The main point of difference between the two drafts is that the short form omits a clause calling for the return of industries which the Soviets are holding on the ground that they belonged to Hitler's German Nazi regime.

THE NOTES delivered to the Foreign Office in Moscow yesterday and made public last night suggested that diplomats appointed by the Western Powers and Russia meet in London to assume talks on the long treaty.

They were in reply to a Russian note of July 30 asking that the Western nations drop the short form treaty, which Russia has contended is a violation of the Big Four agreement made in 1945.

In another note on Aug. 4, the Soviets had said that "it goes without saying that a possible successful solution of the German problem could also help a solution of the Austrian question."

In reply, yesterday's U. S. note said it was assumed this did not mean that hope for an Austrian treaty would be deferred "until unrelated conditions are met."

If the Russians should insist on a German settlement first, indications were that completion of an Austrian treaty would be delayed.

3 Ohio Kiddies Die In Accidents

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three small children were killed in accidents in Ohio yesterday.

A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train killed Annette Deborn, 2, of Louisville, Ky., five miles east of London. She wandered onto the tracks while her mother was picking up coal.

An auto careened off the road at Belleville and killed 2-year-old Tommy Charles Spreng of Loudonville, who was playing in a yard.

Frank Brady, 5, was killed by an auto near his Shoshone home.

News Briefs

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Two Ohio soldiers were among the 75 Americans released here last night by the Reds. They were Cpl. Christopher Panagopoulos of Cleveland and Cpl. Staley Havener Jr. of Columbus.

XENIA (AP)—The Air Force identified a jet pilot killed in a crash near here yesterday as 2nd Lt. Gerald L. Carlson, 23, of Chicago. His plane collided with another jet in a formation of eight.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Company and union negotiators started talks today on wage increases for 35,000 U. S. Rubber Co. employees in 19 plants throughout the nation.

HILLSBORO (AP)—Jack Duncan, 22, of nearby Samantha was killed in an automobile accident last night near Monroe, Mich. Details of the accident were not available.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The plant food processing works of Swift & Co. was closed today by a strike of 30 CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical workers. The union turned down an offer of a four-cent hourly pay increase. It wants 25 cents.

BRITISH BUSINESSMAN FREED BY COMMUNISTS IN HUNGARY

NICHELSBORF, Austria (AP)—Edgar Sanders, British businessman jailed by Communist Hungary for nearly four years as a spy, crossed into Austria today a free man.

The Red Hungarian government pardoned the 47-year-old Briton last night and expelled him from the country where he and American Robert Vogeler were sentenced in February, 1950 on charges of espionage and sabotage. Vogeler was released in April, 1951.

Like Vogeler, Sanders came across the frontier to freedom at Nickelsdorf, a little Austrian border station. Russian tanks on maneuvers and Austrian farm combines cluttered the narrow road on the Austrian side of the frontier.

Sanders crossed the frontier in a car of the British legation in Budapest. He looked pale, wore his customary glasses and a grey suit.

Shortly after Sanders crossed, the Italian legation car bearing Vincenzo Sciotta, an Italian, also reached Austria.

SCIOTTA WAS convicted of espionage and sentenced to four years in prison in 1951.

War Prisoner Swap Entering Third Week

75 Americans Among Those Freed Last Night By Commies

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Seventy-five more Americans streamed back to freedom last night as the great Korean War prisoner exchange entered its third week.

Besides the Americans the Reds turned back 75 British and 300 South Koreans—50 more than the 400 daily the Reds promised.

Again tonight, the Communists planned to step up deliveries. They said they would return 456 Allied captives—75 Americans, 75 British and 356 South Koreans. It will be the largest single group returned.

In 14 days, the Reds have returned 1,105 of the 3,313 Americans they claim they held, a figure far less percentage-wise than the number of British (570 of 921) returned.

Brig. Gen. Ralph Osborne, chief of the Munsan Provisional Command, said the number of Americans repatriated probably will increase when the Reds start emptying the next prison camp.

SEVERAL liberated Americans said they believed the next POWs will come from Camp No. 3 at Chongson. One prisoner estimated it holds 200 to 300 Americans.

Two days of bad weather, the U. N. Command reported, prevented shipment of Red prisoners from Kojie Island to Panmunjom and will cut deliveries to 600 North Koreans tomorrow and none on Thursday. The daily average had been about 2,400. The U. N. Command said it hoped to resume regular schedule Friday.

Yesterday's liberated Americans and British came back smiling, but their gaunt bodies showed the effects of many months in North Korean stockades.

One repatriate, a prisoner for more than 20 months, wryly described the food.

"We ate like pigs," said Pfc. Earl C. Barnard of Martinez, Calif. "I cringe when I think of it."

"They brought the food in wooden troughs. It was soupy sorghum and rice. Of course you had meat in your sorghum—worms in the sorghum, that is."

"At times there was enough for all of us. At times there wasn't."

The U. N. Command reportedly has renewed demands for the return of all Allied prisoners. Reliable sources said the U. N. Command handed the Communists a strongly worded statement at yesterday's meeting of the joint committee for repatriation of prisoners.

THE U. N. statement:

1. Demanded that the Communists give assurances they will return all captured Allied soldiers.

2. Replied to Communist charges of "atrocities against Allied-held Communist prisoners."

Communist propaganda mills continued to pour out stories of what they call the brutality and horrors of U. N. POW camps.

Bus Drivers Told To Buy Watches

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Transit System has ordered newly hired bus and streetcar operators to buy standard pocket watches costing about $65 each.

Otherwise, they won't be allowed to work, the CTS decreed.

The firm said many new employees have been using cheap watches so inaccurate as to throw off schedules.

Reds Ask 5 Neutrals, 6 Others Be Named To Talk Peace For Korea

U. S. Printing Office Aide Refuses To Answer Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward M. Rothschild refused today to say whether he is a member of the Communist Party or whether he ever stole secret documents from the government printing office.

Rothschild, a bookbinding machine operator at the government printing plant, told the Senate investigations subcommittee he declined to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) told the slightly built, bushy haired witness that the charges made against him in secret testimony before the subcommittee are perhaps "the most serious charges ever made against any government official."

"We have testimony to the effect that you stole secret documents from the government printing office—among other things that you stole a secret code," the Wisconsin lawmaker said.

Both Rothschild and his wife, Esther, were named as Communists by witnesses who testified before the Senate group yesterday.

With a shake of his head, Rothschild declined McCarthy's invitation to comment on the charges. Then, in a ready voice, he parried all questions about his associations, alleged Communist connections and other activities with the repeated statement:

"Under the Fifth Amendment I refuse to answer that question."

McCarthy has declared there is every indication the printing office has had an "extremely slipshod"

McCarthy has declared there is every indication the printing office has had an "extremely slipshod" security set up in the past.

McCarthy made that comment despite assurances at yesterday's hearing from Harry D. Merold, production manager at the printing office, that it would be extremely difficult for any unauthorized person to see secret material at the plant.

"I know you have a new security setup now," McCarthy told Merold. McCarthy noted, however, that Rothschild still works at the printing office, although he said testimony was available to the office's loyalty board that (a) both the man and his wife were Communists and (b) a woman witness declared she once saw Rothschild take a secret paper from the plant.

The senator indicated this woman will be called as a witness before his committee later.

NLRB Issues Order To ADMPI Plant Here

Local Management
Makes No Statement
Pending More Study

An AP dispatch from Washington, D. C. today says that the National Labor Relations Board today issued a "cease and desist" order against the American Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., plant of Washington Court House, Ohio.

The order told the company to cease and desist from: (1) refusing to bargain collectively with International Union, United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, UAW-CIO, as the exclusive representative of its employees; (2) interfering with formation of, or representative of its employees; (3) assisting or contributing support to Armo Employees Independent Federation, Inc., or to any other labor organization, and (3) cease and desist recognizing Armo Employees Independent Federation, Inc. as the representative of its employees at its Washington Court House plant.

In connection with the above report out of Washington, spokesmen for the company here said Tuesday that the order had just been received and had been turned over to the company's legal department for study and appropriate action.

West Virginia Grocer Held In Death Case

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP)—A 38-year-old Clarksburg, W. Va., grocer is being held in jail here while authorities continue their investigation into the death of a woman whose body was found in a motor car here Sunday.

Orangeburg County Sheriff B. N. Collins said Ronald E. Ross, 38, is being held without charge. Ross told officers he spent Friday and Saturday in the same room with the body of Miss Kathryn A. Cloud, 37, also of Clarksburg. He said he was afraid to call police.

Ross said Miss Cloud became sick Friday morning and died while he was out of the room.

The woman's nude, partly decomposed body, lying on a blood-spattered sheet, was found by the motor court manager who told police the two arrived in separate cars Aug. 3 and registered as man and wife.

State highway patrol officers said they had received a "lookout" notice for a Ronald E. Ross Aug. 15. The notice said Ross left Beaufort, S. C., July 31.

In Beaufort, authorities of Tidewater Hospital said Ross and Miss Cloud had been patients there. They added that the two left together on July 31, the woman against her doctor's orders.

The hospital said Ross agreed to take Miss Cloud back to Clarksburg with him. Officials would not say why the two had been hospitalized.

Lad, 4, Given False Choppers

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—Ronnie Milligan, 4, is chewing his spinach these days with false teeth.

An Ottawa dentist made Ronnie a set after his baby teeth had become decayed. The permanent teeth which will replace the false choppers are expected to be in place.

180 Volunteers For Air Watch Wanted Here

At a special public meeting to be held at Memorial Hall, Court Street, on Wednesday evening, September 2, the people of Fayette County are to be told why 180 volunteers are needed at once to set up seven observation posts in this locality, which are to be manned day and night, seven days a week, under the direction of the U. S. Air Force and the national Civilian Defense organization.

Staff Sgt. Frank Cuccopio of the U. S. Air Force, is now in this city completing plans for this new "Operation Skywatch" which is regarded by government officials as imperative for civilian defense.

An effort is to be made to establish such posts at or near Jeffersonville, Bloomington, Good Hope, Buena Vista, Milledgeville and New Holland, as well as a post at the Fair Grounds in Washington C. H., with Air Force telephones installed.

This is a part of the new civilian defense setup by which nearly 700 such posts are to be established in Ohio. Of these approximately 400 will report to and be directly responsible to the central filter station at Columbus. More than 250 others will report to a similar filter station at Canton.

Members of this volunteer Ground Observer Corps may be girls, boys, women and men from 15 years of age and up.

Edward W. Sexton is supervisor of the local organization of this Ground Observer Corps, with Norris L. Crissinger, chief observer. Sgt. Cuccopio indicated that the government feels that this move is very important but he did not reveal its full significance at this time.

Similar action on a smaller scale was attempted here once before but interest lagged after a short period. The new organized move will be nationwide and Ohio is expected to do its full share.

Missing Trio Reported 'Safe'

CONNEAUT (AP)—While Coast Guard planes searched Lake Erie for them, three Conneaut men landed safely here last night in a 38-foot cabin cruiser which had been reported missing.

The trio, returning from Long Point, Ont., after a weekend fishing trip, were Dr. Perry B. Longaker, a physician; Allen Pinkerton, a grade school principal; and Warren Aedes, a power company line-man. Because of rough water, they said, they had waited in a small cove from Sunday morning until late yesterday afternoon.

Soviet Plan Is Laid Before U. N. Group

Russia Is Defeated
In Move To Invite
Satellites To Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia proposed today that the Korean peace conference be made up of five so-called neutrals in addition to the six countries who took part in the actual fighting.

The Soviet resolution called for inclusion of the following countries: The United States, Britain, France, Russia, Communist China, India, Poland, Sweden, Burma, North Korea and South Korea.

The Soviet move came as the General Assembly's 60-nation political committee rejected a Russian demand that Red China and North Korea be invited to take part in the current U. N. Korean debate.

The proposal to invite Communist China was 14 in favor, 34 against and nine abstaining. The vote against inviting North Korea was 18-34 with seven abstaining.

Soviet delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky warned before the decision that "no solution is possible in their absence."

He also disclosed that the Soviet Union wants the forthcoming Korean peace conference to include a broader membership than the actual countries who participated in the fighting, as the United States has been demanding.

Vishinsky also served notice that he would make a formal proposal at the regular fall session of the General Assembly for the seating of Red China as a U. N. member.

U. S. DELEGATE Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. opposed the Soviet move this morning. He said there is no reason for the participation of the Peiping regime or the North Koreans in the selection of the U. N. representatives to the peace conference. The armistice agreement makes it clear, he said, that the two sides were to choose their own representatives.

Sir Percy Spender, Australian delegate, backed up Lodge in opposing the Soviet move.

Vishinsky took the floor just as Lodge was ready to lead off with a strong plea to bar so-called neutral countries from the peace parley.

Russia, however, was reported ready to plump for a widely backed plan to include some countries who sent no troops to the conflict. Some diplomats felt the U. N. Assembly majority may agree with the Russians.

The Soviets and India both have been proposed for membership in the conference, their sponsors contending the parley should be a roundtable affair rather than a two-sided negotiation. If this view is adopted, still other noncombatants may be invited.

The reported Soviet move was seen as an attempt to capitalize on the differences between the United States and Britain over India, and at the same time a try for U. N. defeat to the U. S.

U. S. DELEGATE Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., listed as first speaker in the 60-nation Political Committee, has announced the United States will agree to Russia's inclusion in the Korean conference if the North Koreans and Red China desire it. He insisted, however, that Russia should sit as a representative of the enemy and not on the U. N. side.

Lodge has declared emphatically that he will not support a British-backed proposal to invite India to the conference. But despite Lodge's objections, the inclusion of India has strong support among the British commonwealth nations, the Arabs, the Asians and some Latin American and West European countries.

Only last night, Mexico's foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo announced that his government favors broadening the conference to include some neutrals.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold also has declared he favors a broad interpretation of the armistice agreement, which calls upon the two sides to choose their representatives. The United States has taken the position that this wording excludes countries who did not actually take part in the fighting.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

Loafing in the up-town district is not what it used to be.

In bygone days loafing on street corners, sitting on steps, and leaning against buildings, etc., was a common sight.

But times have changed in loafing as well as everything else, and I was forcibly reminded of this recently, when I saw an old timer, apparently here on a visit trying to find a comfortable loafing place, but without results.

He tried sitting on steps, standing up, leaning against a stairway guardrail, and against buildings, but some way or other he just could not find a place where he felt at ease, and after two hours trying to loaf comfortably, he gave it up in despair.

Blue Lion Squad Meets Coach For Football Talk

First Session of '53 Season Is Held At Gardner Park

The Washington C. H. High School Blue Lions football team is getting all set to open its 1953 season this fall.

Monday night, over 60 boys, who are hoping to make the team, turned out for a meeting at Gardner Park to get acquainted with the new head coach, Dennis Bell.

Coach Bell, who comes here this year from Cardington, met with the prospects for the team last night to explain the training rules they would have to follow and also to explain what would be expected of them. The meeting was more or less informal, just to get acquainted and to know each other.

AT THE SESSION also were the three new assistant coaches. They are Homer Beard, Denzil Leggett and William Bucky. Harry Townsend, the other assistant football coach and head basketball coach, was missing at the meeting. Coach Townsend is the only returning member this year of the WHS coaching staff of last year.

A movie was shown to the boys last night on football. It revealed different plays and also some of the college teams in action.

Coach Bell announced that he would start practice Thursday this week. From Thursday until school starts practice sessions will be held twice a day, once in the morning and once again in the afternoon. After school begins, the boys will shift to one practice a day.

However, practice won't start Thursday for several of the football hopefuls. Around 30 to 40 of them have been meeting down at Gardner Park for the past three weeks in the evening and have been going through plays and taking calisthenics. The co-captains of the squad this year are David Smith, a cousin to Carl Smith, and Dick Tracey.

UNIFORMS WERE issued to several of the boys Tuesday morning by Coach Bell. Most of the boys who are out for the team have had practice shoes for about three weeks. Physical examinations will be given to all of them Wednesday at 2 P. M. in the high school gymnasium.

Coach Bell told the boys Monday night that he had four scrimmage sessions lined up before the regular season starts on September 18. The schedule this fall is as follows:

Sept. 18—Linden McKinley, away.

Sept. 25—Xenia, here.

Oct. 2—Cincinnati Western Hills here.

Oct. 9—Greenfield there.

Oct. 16—Hillsboro, here.

Oct. 23—Wilmington, here.

Oct. 29—Dayton Kiser, here.

Nov. 6—Bexley, there.

Nov. 13—Circleville, there.

Also at the meeting, the season tickets were handed out to the boys to sell by Arthur Engle, high school teacher and manager of the football ticket sale.

E. WAYNE TITUS, WHS principal, has announced that the season tickets will be ready for sale next Monday. They may be either purchased from the football boys or at the high school in the dean's office. They are $5 apiece and are good for all five of the home games. The reserved seats will be in the stadium part. There are 759 seats available in the stadium.

Tickets will be on sale at the high school in the dean's office starting next Monday. They may only be purchased between the hours of 2 P. M. to 4 P. M. Monday through Friday.

Titus has announced that the persons who had season tickets last year and turned in their stubs at the end of the season may have their same seats back in the stadium by calling at the high school.

If tickets are purchased from a football member, it will help him to get a discount on the cost of his activity book.

Something different has been planned this year for the football team. A picnic will be held at the City Park at 6:30 P. M. Wednesday for both the boys and their parents.

The picnic will give the parents a chance to meet each other and also to get better acquainted with the new coaches.

Ernest Ford, Michigan motorcycle rider who was injured seriously in a bad spill during the motorcycle races here Sunday, was removed to General Hospital, Detroit, Monday, making the trip in the Parrett ambulance.

Examination here at Fayette Memorial Hospital disclosed that Ford had sustained injury to his spine which may require weeks of care before he is able to be about, it was reported.

Grain Markets

GRAIN FUTURES
Losses were recorded in grains on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat had an easier undertone under the weight of hedging pressure. Japan bought 1 1/2 million bushels of wheat overnight, but it did not appear to have much influence in the futures pit.

Soybeans showed flashes of strength after having dropped to new seasonal lows in the previous session.

Wheat near noon was 1 to 1 1/2 lower, September $1.85 1/4, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, September $1.46 1/4, oats 1 1/4 lower, September 74 1/4, soybeans 3/4-1 1/4 higher, September $2.45 1/2, and lard 2 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $13.40.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two strong-willed old men, Syngman Rhee and Mohammed Mossadegh, walk dangerously close to the world's powder keg with a lighted match in their hands.

Both move toward the climax of their lives in their late 70s.

And the best the world — the non-Communist world, at least — can do is watch them, hold its breath, and just hope they'll be shrews and nimble enough not to stumble or fumble.

Rhee, the peppery President of South Korea, is 78. Mossadegh, Iran's Premier, is believed close to 78 too. Both march into the future as determined as if they had a lease on life. But—

If Rhee, exasperated by the forthcoming peace conference, wrecks the truce by attacking the Chinese, what then? The Chinese seem capable of slaughtering Rhee and his people.

Would the United States and the United Nations stand idly by? Or would they go in once more to bail out the South Koreans, thus renewing the war which might soon become bigger than Korea?

Mossadegh became Iran's No. 1 man Sunday when the Shah fled into exile. What now? Has Mossadegh so weakened the structure of government that, unwittingly, he has opened the door for the Iranian Communists to bounce him and take power? That would make Iran another Russian satellite.

What would the United States and the United Nations do in that case, since Iran is strategic in the Middle East and its rich oil fields are important to both Russia and the West?

Rhee has made it abundantly clear what he wants in Korea: unification under him. Mossadegh's ultimate ambition for Iran is far from clear, unless it is making over the country to his liking.

Both men have been in the politics of their homeland most of their lives. Because the two are intense nationalists, both are national heroes. Both use their popularity for all its worth.

Where they differ profoundly is in the way they go about getting what they want.

The chunky, well-fed looking Rhee is defiant as a rooster. He keeps the air crackling with pronouncements on his attitudes and desires. Not so Mossadegh.

That lean man with the mournful face looks hungry. He is fits of fainting and weeping spells which he manages in public places. He doesn't cry in private conferences.

He has stalked success like a cat, eliminating opponents one step at a time, letting his people and the world guess where he'll jump next.

For half a century there was no doubt about the prominence of Rhee among his Koreans. But Mossadegh, a Johnny-come-lately to high office, was a minor figure in Iran until he became premier a few years ago.

For years he had been a minor member of Parliament, making a hobby of criticizing the government. Although he was reportedly one of the richest of Iranians, he consistently backed liberal measures for the people.

He swam to the top on the wave of nationalism which swept over Iran after World War II, appealing to the Iranians' ancient pride, denouncing foreign interference in his country's affairs, and finding the British a handy target.

For 40 years, through their ownership of Iranian oil production, the British had been a force, perhaps the controlling force, in Iran. Mossadegh led the Iranians in

Fayette Roads In Good Shape

Will Enter Winter In Top Condition

Fayette County's highways are in exceptionally good condition, generally speaking, for the approaching winter.

Considerable patching has been done where necessary, and one of the most dangerous sections of road in the county—most of the Chillicothe Road, has been resurfaced and most of the bad condition of a high crown removed.

Other state and federal routes have received surface treating as well as being given attention generally to insure them being in as good condition as possible.

Work of giving the roads what is hoped to be a final mowing, is now under way, so that the roadsides will be free of weeds.

While there are still many miles of plain macadam roads in the county, there has, year by year, been a steadily increased amount of blacktop added so that a surprisingly large mileage is now free of dust.

For weeks highway crews have been doing routine work on the federal, state and county roads.

Two Men Are Fined By Judge Brubaker

In addition to a number of traffic cases disposed of by Judge R. L. Brubaker in municipal court Monday, he fined Ernest Luker, Salem, Va., $200 and costs, gave him 10 days in jail, and suspended his driving permit for one year for driving while drunk.

Luker was taken into custody by the state patrol after overturning his car on the Chillicothe Road Sunday. Judge Brubaker suspended $25 of the fine. Luker is now serving the 10 days in city jail.

At the same session of court Judge Brubaker fined Kenneth Eugene Evans, 33, city, $150 and costs and gave him 30 days in the workhouse, but suspended the 30 days pending good behavior. Evans was charged with using obscene language and indecent exposure. He paid the fine.

throwing out the British and taking the oil.

That's a problem that has never been settled. But Mossadegh moved from one internal crisis to another until now the question of a settlement on oil is overshadowed by the question of Iran's whole future.

Rhee, on the other hand, had been a Korean rallying point most of his life. It was only natural he should become president of South Korea when the people had their first chance to elect one, in 1948.

He began fighting the Korean monarchy for reforms in 1894. For this he was jailed and tortured. He came to this country, was educated at Harvard and Princeton, returned to Korea when the Japanese grabbed it. He soon had to flee.

From then until the end of World War II he was in exile, fighting for Korean independence, and for more than 20 of those years he had been considered by Koreans the president-in-exile of the Korean Republic which didn't exist.

Mossadegh, too, had his troubles with monarchy in his homeland. Long ago he was jailed by Reza Shah, father of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, who had to flee from Mossadegh Sunday. Mossadegh evened an old score with that one.

Services Held For Mrs. Della Mark

Largely attended funeral services were held for Mrs. Della Mark at 1:30 P. M. Saturday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Rev. Harold Braden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the services. He offered prayer, read the Scripture, delivered the sermon, and also paid a personal tribute to Mrs. Mark.

The many floral tributes were cared for by the pallbearers who were Danny Freshour, Larry Freshour, Matthews Vince, Mark Mickel, Roney Rummans and Maynard Mickle.

Interment was in the family lot of the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Softball Tournament

elimination affair and games will be played in the afternoon and at night. Publicity on the games in newspapers, and on radio and TV throughout the four states is expected to attract a capacity crowd over the week-end.

Planning for this tournament and the men's regional, scheduled for September 4-5-6-7, began just after the first of the year when the announcement was made from San Francisco that Washington C. H. had been awarded the tournament. The A. S. A. was holding its national convention there and the bid from local softball promoters was accepted at that time, even though several larger cities in the four state area were also asking for it.

Both the girls and the men's regionals were scheduled for Washington C. H. then. The men's regional tournament will have the same representative teams as the girls, and a local tournament will be played here commencing tonight to determine which team from Fayette County will be the host team for that event.

This is the first time these major softball tournaments have been held in a city as small as Washington C. H. For the past two years they have been held in Cleveland, and before that in Detroit and other large cities in the region.

Local softball fans began calling Washington C. H. the "Softball Capital of Ohio" two years ago when the first Ohio men's state tournament was held here. That tournament was such a success that the state contest was again held here in August last year. It is believed that the resounding success of these tournaments was a big factor in the city being awarded the bigger regional contests.

County Streams Still Flowing

Flow Over Dam Here Still in Evidence

Although it has been reduced to a very small amount, water is still flowing over the dam at the waterworks plant here, as the result of heavy rainfall late in July, which thoroughly soaked Paint Creek valley north of Washington C. H.

In early July the stream stopped flowing and water in the reservoir above the dam was vanishing rapidly when the big rains came and the stream, as well as all others in the county, was started flowing normally once more.

So far, the Ohio Water Service Co. has not found it necessary to draw on the auxiliary pumping station east of the city, to augment the supply in the main basin about the pumping station.

It is the first time in recent years that Paint Creek has continued to flow over the dam this late in August.

Belief is expressed that, with normal rainfall the remainder of August and in September, the usual drought period will pass with out necessity of drawing heavily on both pumping plants here to provide an adequate supply of water for the steadily growing city.

So far none of the streams in the county have ceased flowing like they usually do in late August.

Additional rainfall is needed at present to insure proper maturity of part of the corn and soybeans in the county.

It's Going To Be Wow Of A Powwow

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—An estimated 25,000 Indians have set up teepee-keeping on the outskirts of this "Indian Capital of the World" hoping to garner a trunkload of the white man's tourist wampum during the 22nd annual American Indian Exposition.

And the peace-pipe smoking redmen apparently are willing to forget that their white brothers shylowed their ancestors out of Manhattan Island for a piddling $24 in trinkets.

The braves, squaws and papooses have neatly folded their overalls, business suits and two-tone shoes and de-mothballed the Hollywood-type costumes and multi-colored feathers for the tourist trade.

Medicine men are hoping the war-whooping will attract some 60,000 visitors from all 48 states during the six-day celebration which began this morning.

With all the visiting Indians streaming into town, the outskirts are a solid mass of tents and teepees.

Coming Event Means Much To Fayette County

Fayette County is fortunate in having an outstanding attraction soon within its borders, such as the state Field Day and plowing matches, which are to be held at the Fayette Hereford Ranch in Wayne Township, September 8 and 9.

Extensive plans are well under way to take care of this big two day event and scores of Fayette County individuals are busy on the project. This event will serve to bring thousands of visitors to this community and will stress the importance of this county in its agricultural progress.

This is a great agricultural boost for this county and deserves the cooperation of all business people and other individuals as well as the farm organizations which are giving it attention.

Winners of events here are eligible to compete in national plowing matches to be held in Wisconsin later in September.

There is a great deal more to this event, which is a part of the county's Sesqui-centennial program, than the state plowing matches, significant as they are.

The occasion will afford industries of this community and dealers in farm machinery, farm products, seeds and fertilizer, to make displays and take an active part in the whole program. Agronomy demonstrations and exhibits will be a big feature.

Plans for airplane tours will furnish observers with an opportunity to see conservation practises all over the county. These projects will be judged and may set an example to many for greater progress in the agricultural field.

There will be other program features arranged for those days and state and nationally known speakers will be here to take part.

The women of this locality are also to play a big part in the whole set-up. They not only will provide food for many visitors, but will be identified with the program in flower displays and lectures from experts in this field of activity. Many women of the county are as interested as the men in the enterprise of farm advancement.

What Budget Cut Means

Although the Eisenhower administration and the Eighty-third Congress have been unable to reduce federal taxes up to now, they have succeeded in reducing by $12,600,000,000 the budget for the present fiscal year as proposed by former President Truman.

This slash in the budget actually means that the taxpayers of Ohio are $793,800,000 better off under the appropriation bills of the Eighty-third Congress than they would have been under the Truman budget. That's equal to approximately $100 for each man, woman and child in Ohio—$400 for an average family of four persons.

This savings represents nearly two times the total state and local expenditures, including outlay for new buildings, for all public schools in Ohio in the 1951-52 school year, the most recent for which figures are available, according to some figuring which has been done by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

His Hobby--Avoiding Hobbies

NEW YORK (AP)—My hobby is avoiding hobbies.

To be more precise, my hobby is avoiding people who insist I should try their hobby. It will change my whole life, they say, give me new perspective, added freshness, escape, relief from frustration and the commonplace.

Baloney. If I want to be dull and unhappy, that's my privilege. Leave me be. Anyway, I have my doubts about the enthusiasm of new hobbyists out on the stump. I mean those hobbyists who live and breathe the stuff all the time.

You know the kind. The hobbyist and his wife will drop over for a drink. He will remain glum and silent during the small talk about operations and jobs and the way polio is going around. Then he finds an opening and wham! There goes your evening.

Why is it that the first time a man is seduced by an eight-inch ball-bearing power saw, with a mitre gauge and splitter, or by a one rupee uncanceled stamp from the Maldiv Islands, he becomes an evangelical bore about the whole thing?

He pounces on his friends, neighbors and relatives as though he just found a cure for the five per cent mortgage. They, too, he argues, must try this hobby and ascend, with him, to the bright and glorious plateau of a new life.

Why is he so anxious to convince us?

Is it because down deep he is still a little uncertain about the wisdom of a grown man spending so much time and energy on a new weapon for etching in leather? Does he need the moral support of imitation to fortify his expenditure of money and passion on a new soil tinker?

I have heard it said that you can achieve new peace of mind by observing the yellow-bellied sap-sucker in its natural habitat. That may be true. But I'd rather try to work out a negotiated peace with my own natural habitat and let the yellow-bellied sap-sucker envy me.

But, of course, birds have more sense than to take up a hobby of people-watching. I'm sure it will alarm nobody if I happened to feel that this whole business of making a hobby the be-all and end-all is a dangerous mistake.

It tends to lead people in the wrong direction, away from themselves and the reality of their own existence. If they are bored or oppressed by their home life or job, is there nothing they can do about it but creep into an esoteric basement.

Instead of trying to fertilize their barren acres, this overemphasis on hobbies persuades them to take up something else three nights a week and every weekend. Is this really enough to satisfy? Seems to me it's like trying to irrigate a desert by wetting your head.

What does it profit a man, married to a terrible shrew, if he conquers the whole world of butterflies? He's still married to the same wife. Why doesn't he try to find out what she's mad about? Seems to me he might do better to stand up to her and sound off than to stick pins in poor butterflies.

Too Many Promises to Korea

As one goes over the material on Korea, it is shocking to read all the promises that have been made, particularly about unification. As early as December 1948, the United Nations promised "complete independence and unity of Korea." The United States assented to this promise. Yet, the truce separates Korea, between north and south, and if not precisely on the 38th parallel, close enough to arouse suspicion that the war actually served no purpose.

In June 1950, when the North Koreans attacked the South Koreans, the United Nations Security Council pledged complete independence and unity for Korea, Warren Austin, our representative in the United Nations, waxed eloquent that Korea should not be permitted to remain "half slave, half free." The general assembly of the United Nations had voted that Korea be unified under a freely elected government, Trygve Lie, then secretary general of the United Nations, said in a speech that it would not be enough to drive the Korean Communists beyond the 38th Parallel; the country must be "unified and independent" and that the Koreans must be "able freely to select a government of their own choosing."

This general type of promise continued throughout the war in Korea—except for Harry Truman who from the beginning set the 38th Parallel as the limit of intervention. In many respects, Truman's public statements were more honest than most because he did not take a position that unification would be achieved by force.

Despite the various statements about unification, as early as October 12, 1950, Syngman Rhee was precluded from governing North Korea, even the conquered territory. A resolution to that effect was introduced by Australia and was approved. After the Wake Island conference between President Truman and General MacArthur, Rhee's position was considerably weakened. Yet a United Nations commission on unification and rehabilitation had been appointed. What kind of unification was not made clear.

One of the most amazing documents in this series is a joint statement issued by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee in which it is said:

"There can be no thought of appeasement or of rewarding aggression, whether in the Far East or elsewhere" but "we are ready (to) seek an end to hostilities by means of negotiation... on the basis of a free and independent Korea."

Yet, aggression is rewarded in the sense that the Chinese Communists, who are the effective aggressors in this war, are actually being supported by Great Britain, France, Canada and other countries in their demand for a seat in the United Nations. Should they get their seat, would it not be evidence that crime does pay?

President Truman, in his reply to the Russian peace proposal (June 1951), said:

"We are ready to join in a peaceful settlement in Korea now just as we have always been. But it must be a real settlement which fully ends the aggression and restores peace and security" to Korea.

It will here be noted that nothing is said in this statement about unification. The Russian peace proposal was made after 1950, when the United States troops were at the Yalu River with all of Korea under their control. The victory had been won by General MacArthur against the North Koreans, but on November 6, 1950, the Chinese Communists intervened and started a new war.

After the Chinese intervention, talk about unification was not so general. For instance, in June 1951, Dean Acheson said that the war was being fought to end aggression and to restore peace.

By George Sokolsky

Acheson's attitude, like Truman's, was that if the status quo ante bellum could be restored, it would be enough.

However, President Eisenhower did not take that position. He said in June 1953, that the United States was committed to the unification of Korea.

Actually, it would seem that too many promises have been made, most of which are not yet known to the American people. What are our commitments to Great Britain or to India? How far have we gone in our negotiations with the North Koreans who represented the Chinese Communists? What have we promised Syngman Rhee in return for his consent to be a good boy for 90 days?

These questions have not been answered. The Far Eastern subcommittee of the foreign relations committee of the Senate may know the answers, but they regard them as confidential. Yet, the people do not know and it is their business.

Gulls Compete In Air Show

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Boone, 31, a stunt pilot from Hollywood, Calif., received unscheduled competition in a low-level flight yesterday during an air show at Logan International Airport.

Boone was joined at the halfway mark of his one-mile flight at about 65 feet by some 1,000 sea gulls. They swooped down on the plane, apparently eager to make a race.

"The birds were a little too close for comfort, but I gained on them," the pilot said later.

Dying Woman, 21, Delivers Baby

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 21-year-old woman, injured in an automobile accident last night, gave birth to a girl shortly before she died.

Mrs. Catherine Heffelfinger of nearby Barberton was taken to Canton Mercy Hospital after a two-car collision.

The hospital said the child's condition was good.

The father, James, 21, was admitted to the hospital, suffering from shock and lacerations.

Diet and Health Heart Held to Blame For Many Ailments

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Almost any kind of disturbance of the chest, from indigestion to pleurisy, is immediately considered in relation to the heart. From the physiological standpoint, the heart would have to wander all over the chest and perhaps lap over into the digestive system, in order to be the cause of most of these pains!

One of these conditions feared by the layman to be a heart attack is a severe chest pain below the breast bone in young adults. Although heart attacks due to a decrease in circulation to the blood vessels of the heart or coronary arteries can occur in young adults, they are infrequent.

Sac Inflammation

These types of heart attacks are usually due to an inflammation of the sac covering and lining the heart, a disease known as pericarditis. In most cases of suspected heart attacks in individuals between the ages of twenty to thirty years of age, the attacks are found to be due to this disease rather than to a disorder of the coronary arteries.

Most often, pericarditis occurs after an upper respiratory infection. The patient usually feels very tired, runs a low fever, and has severe chest pains which may be felt just below the breast bone or, in some cases, in the left shoulder and arm. The pain is worse when the person breathes, and he feels as though he has had a typical heart attack.

Many times a physician can detect this disease by listening to the heart with a stethoscope. A grating sound is heard due to the heart muscle rubbing against the inflamed sac. Usually an exact diagnosis is made by an X-ray of the chest, which reveals a typical type of heart enlargement. An electrocardiogram is also helpful in making a diagnosis.

The disease lasts from a few days to several weeks and there may be recurring attacks. Most of these young individuals recover from this type of heart disease, while the outlook is not too bright for those who may have a coronary heart attack at this early age.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. L. H.: I have been having nose bleeds for the past year and a half. I am forty years old, married, and otherwise in good health. What could be causing these nose bleeds?

Answer: There are many causes for nose bleeds. They can be caused by injuries to the nose, blood disturbances, infections, certain chronic diseases, such as tuberculosis and rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. In some instances the reason for the nose bleeds cannot be determined. However, you should have a thorough physical examination by your physician so that the cause may be determined and treatment employed to stop them.

FLORENCE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—The Greyhound bus stopped over 90 minutes last night while driver Lee Mull delivered a baby.

Mull was unloading passengers when he heard a woman in a back seat moan. He rushed to her aid and W. F. Ihlmann, who owns the bus stop, supplied hot towels.

The dark-eyed boy which Mull delivered weighed seven pounds. "The prettiest thing you ever saw," Uhlmann commented.

The key to Increased POULTRY PROFITS

Poultry House Ventilating Fan does Double Duty

Keeps laying house cool in summer, dry in winter

Mr. Oscar Hoelscher, Auglaize County Farmer, inspects the poultry house ventilating fan that helps him maintain high production throughout the year.

Keeping hens cool in hot weather is an additional advantage of poultry house ventilating equipment originally installed to blow humid air out of laying houses in winter, on the Hoelscher farm.

In winter, electric ventilation overcomes the triple threat of poor ventilation, wet floor litter and cold hazards. Eggs are cleaner because the deep litter is dry and the hens' feet are clean.

When summer temperatures soar, the same equipment does double duty. By merely reversing the fans, cool air is circulated through the pens to keep hens comfortable and egg production high.

This double duty use of the electric ventilating fan makes it a very profitable investment for every farm with a laying flock.

For additional information on electrical helps for profitable poultry business, consult your County Agent, Vocational Agriculture Teacher, and the D.P.&L. Farm Representative serving your neighborhood.

POWs Plot Long, Daringly To Execute Possible Escape

(Editor's note: Frank Noel, AP photographer and Pulitzer Prize winner in 1943, came back from more than 32 months in a Communist prison camp on Aug. 9. In this second of a series of three stories he tells of the thwarted plan of an American pilot with whom he escaped to steal a Russian-made MIG 15 jet fighter and fly it to an American base.)

By FRANK NOEL
As Told to Olen Clements
TOKYO — In the minds of prisoners—whether it is Leavenworth or a Communist hole in North Korea—escape always is running through your mind.

Four times I planned to escape. Once I did.

It was with a pilot, Capt. A. Chary Dean of Kansas. It happened in August, 1951.

I had been a prisoner of the Communists then nearly a year. Dean, a P51 pilot, was shot down in April, 1951. He was a bridegroom of six days.

First I'll give you the picture. Escape in a country where you can't speak the language, read the road signs, show your face at all, is something that must be thought out.

Dean, a lanky Kansan with the guts of a lion, wanted to steal a MIG 15 and fly it back to an airfield in South Korea. Being Air Force he knew how much those things were worth. So we planned to swim the Yalu, sneak down around Antung, Manchuria, lie up around the airport a few days, and watch the Chinese security guards. Eventually he planned to snatch a hot jet and fly it away.

I was going to steal a fishing boat or bribe or clobber somebody and get out the best way I could. There were three of us involved in the escape plot.

We began to connive, scrape food bowls for leftovers and horde up everything we could lay hands on that we could eat or use for trading or bribery.

Communists are easy to bribe. We knew the route from the camp we were going to take. It was through a corn patch. But the corn wasn't high enough. So we watched that corn grow, kept an eye on the moon and bided our time.

One stormy night looked like the night. We were ready.

The third man had just come down with yellow jaundice.

Dean and I decided to go it alone. That is not good because in that country you might sprain an ankle tripping over undergrowth. It is best that three men go together just in case of illness, injury or to keep watch while the other two sleep.

But Dean and I were eager. We sneaked out into that corn patch.

The rain was beating down. We had all our possessions—Dean's wrist watch, two or three fountain pens, about $10 in greenbacks I had borrowed from Turkish prisoners, a straight razor Dean had stolen from the company barber shop, a Boy Scout knife I had, a couple of rocks and the cover for a sleeping bag which we were going to use for a sail on any small boat we might steal.

We got through that corn patch all right. Then we hit a wood and tripped over the undergrowth and I slid down an embankment that left my derrier bare. I think it was an open grave the Reds had dug. We floundered around there and got going again.

It was black as pitch. We didn't know it but we had night blindness due to a lack of vitamins. We stumbled on and pretty soon we came to a little opening. Blindly I walked on, fell over a fence and right into a pig sty.

Well, that damned pig wanted no human company. He squealed and mouthed around there until he woke up the Korean farmer. The farmer poked his head out of a window, a cigarette glowing, but he never did come out.

We held our breath. Nothing happened. We would have killed that pig if we had a weapon.

The rain was beating down on those corn stalk leaves, making a sound that is conducive to sleep. That lulled the pig and that North Korean. The pig quit squealing. The Korean quit smoking. Dean and I stole silently away.

It took us most all night but we swam the half-mile wide lake and got over on the other side of it. Probably all night long we walked. Yet we didn't make over a mile from the camp. But we had the lake between us and the camp.

We slept all day in some bushes. It was raining and we were wringing wet.

We were heading for the Yalu, going to swim across.

Trails in that country all have security guards on them. We travelled only at night, of course, and we couldn't see much on account of this lack of vitamins. We almost bumped into two or three guard huts but escaped.

That night we had a talk. Dean said:

"I'm going to steal a MIG (MIGs can not carry any passengers) and I'll have to go it alone. What are you going to do?"

I said:

"I'll stick with you until you take off then I'll go on down the coast, steal a boat, bribe a fisherman or something and try to make it down south of the 38th Parallel or hit an Allied carrier or something out in the Yellow Sea and go aboard it."

We decided we would stick together until the MIG stealing because you can never tell, a guy might get sick, break a leg tripping around at night like that or something. You know how it is.

Our tobacco was wet. The book Dean brought along so we could tear the pages out of it to roll cigarettes was all wet.

We were miserable.

That night we stumbled right into a Korean road block.

There were a couple of guards in the hut and they heard us. They stumbled out in their underwear, carrying those bamboo pike spears of theirs and making a lot of noise because they were scared. Like a couple of schoolboys in a graveyard at night.

They looked around, went back into the hut and closed the hut door.

Dean and I took off in high gear. We jumped in behind a high clay embankment facing the lake. Ten or 15 minutes later the Koreans came yak-yaking down the road. We were trying to roll cigarettes and were not paying any attention to the noise the Koreans were making coming down the road. They were scared of their own shadows, and we knew it.

We just shut down everything. They walked right past us. Their wet tennis shoes squished.

Then we sneaked up on a hill, hid in some bushes all day, because we knew we had been detected.

It was good and dark when we stirred. Only Dean had a watch. Dean began to get sick. His back hurt. There was a swelling in his groin. He had hepatitis. He belonged to the old Yellow Eye Club back in camp.

Oh, yes, I forgot. The Chinese inoculated 120 of us with the same needle. The last 20 or so, you could hear the needle as it screwed its way through the tissues.

It was jaundice Dean had. There was no mistake.

Dean was very sick. "I can't go any farther," he said. "We've got to find a hiding place for a couple of days."

When you get jaundice our camp doctors, who had treated the other 27 of that 120 who came down with it, had told us you must lie still and take as much sugar as possible. Of course, we had no sugar but Dean knew that.

We had to find a place to hide. We were on a high hill. The clouds went floating by.

Up there they stack brush to let it dry out and that was what we were looking for. But we couldn't find any.

Finally we saw a cowshed and crawled in there. Dean felt bad. He wanted to smoke and so did I. We had been three days and nights in a torrential rain. We were cold. We wanted warm food. We saw the farm compound.

We decided we'd take a chance. Maybe they wouldn't turn us in. Dean could get two or three days rest.

We made a mistake. There were about seven families in it. That's where your communism comes in. One of them turned us in. We'd taken a long shot and lost.

They did give us warm food, kindness, dry tobacco. Then the insidiousness of communism reared its ugly head. They had to tell the Gestapo. Too many people had seen us.

It was that old snitch government, that shotgun diplomacy again. The Koreans could not trust their fellow Communists. Somebody had to report us, we knew. So we started to leave.

We got out on the road. We didn't know it but we were only six kilometers from the Yalu. We knew its direction and we started that way. These Koreans said that we should go the other way.

We said we are going our way. Dean offered them his watch. They grabbed us.

Dean was much taller so two of the three men who were trying to detain us grabbed him and one grabbed me on the left shoulder.

I grabbed his thumb and doubled it up. It must have hurt him to his elbow. He was at my mercy.

Dean whipped out this razor he stole from the company barber and he made a couple of swipes at his two tormentors. They retreated to the embankment.

I didn't let go of that thumb. I knew he was hurting up to his elbow. I bet he hasn't got that untangled yet.

Dean, who was free, said: "What the hell are we going to do?"

I said: "Let's get over in that cornfield and fight them if they find us."

So we made a couple of "S" turns and dived into that cornfield and under some climbing bean vines the Koreans always have in their cornfields. We laid there in the mud for about an hour.

Then they found us. The kids found us.

They turned about 50 boys between 10 and 12 loose to look for us.

They found us and raised hell. We were captured by a bunch of kids. We didn't want to kick their little teeth out.

Then the grown folks moved in. They bound our arms behind us and bound us together with ropes. Dean told them he'd give them his watch. If we had had two, we'd have been free.

When we walked, we almost goose-stepped. We must have looked ridiculous.

Then Dean broke out with dysentery. It was bad.

There we were tied, together. They said we had to march back the whole 27 miles we had come from the camp.

Dean was sick, bad. Have you ever been tied to a man with dysentery on the road? When he took a step I took a step. When he did anything I had to assume the same position.

They never let us loose until we got back to the camp. Then they threw us in the hole—Dean for two months. I got six. Neither of us served the full sentence but the Communists never let us forget that we still had part of our sentence hanging over our heads.

Dean served about 32 days in that hole—an abandoned, uncleaned latrine.

I served about 42 days, because Dean's sentence originally was shorter than mine, in a better hole which was not a latrine. But it stank.

They gave us flea-laden uniforms and those fleas hit us like they had fish hooks for snozzles. It was bad.

But we were lucky. We thought we'd be shot.

One thing I'm pretty proud of was when those sentences were pronounced.

There was a small (maybe I imagined this) but it seemed a very small amount of applause (Please turn to Page Five)

Tenth Birthday Of Little Girl Is Celebrated

Mrs. Glendon Kelley entertained at a party for her daughter, Patricia, and the event was planned as a surprise on her tenth birthday anniversary.

Twenty-two small guests were seated at two long tables, each centered with a decorated birthday cake, over which balloons were suspended and small wheelbarrows filled with candy and bubble gum were favors.

Following the opening of the gifts, the children were served ice cream, cake and soft drinks. Later a round of games were arranged for entertainment for the young guests.

Assisting Mrs. Kelley during the afternoon were Mrs. Betty Davis, Mrs. Grace Dawes and Mrs. Anna Lee Kelley.

Those enjoying the gay event were Michael Kelley, Judy Kelley, Beryl Kelley, Bill Dawes, David Armbrust, Sharon Kelley, Sammy Ladrock, Norman Kelley, Jr., Molly Kelley, Jenny Kelley, Bonnie Kelley, Virgil Workman, Jr., Danny Armbrust, Carol Kelley, Jimmy Ladrock, Paula Bowers, Martha Mason, Kevin Davis, Deanne Dawes, Diane Workman and Anita Kelley.

Petty-Devers Wedding Is Event Of Sunday

The marriage of Miss Mary Petty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty to Staff Sergeant De-ward Devers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Devers of Patriot, Indiana, was an event of Sunday, August 16.

Rev. Harold J. Braden officiated at the ceremony in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church at 1 P. M., and attendants for the couple were Miss Willa Mae Petty and Mr. George Petty, sister and brother of the bride.

Miss Petty wore for her marriage a pastel blue nylon street length dress with white accessories, and her corsage was of white roses. The attendant wore a black nylon dress with red accessories.

After a short wedding trip to West Virginia, the couple will leave for Fort Worth, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed at the Crosswell Air Force Base.

MYF To Sponsor Song Fests

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church are sponsoring a Song Fest, Thursday, August 20 at 8 P. M. at the church, to which the public is cordially invited to attend.

Refreshments of homemade ice cream and cake will be served, and a free will offering is to be taken.

Alternate slices of cooked beets and hard-cooked eggs on salad greens and serve with a dressing of olive oil, red wine vinegar, prepared mustard, salt and pepper. This makes an unusually delicious luncheon course when it is served with whole-wheat bread and cream cheese sandwiches.

Family Reunion Is Held Sunday

The twenty-ninth annual reunion of the Whiteside family was held Sunday at the Fayette County Children's Home.

Long tables on the lawn held the delicious food making up a sumptuous basket dinner at the noon hour. During the afternoon, movies were shown of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Amer Whiteside, which was held recently.

An interesting program, in charge of Mrs. Russell Whiteside, Mrs. Clarence Ogilvie, Mrs. Nathaniel Tway and Mr. John Wells, consisted of vocal solos by Steve Dowler and Bob Whiteside; an organ selection by Jay Ogilvie; another vocal solo by Karen Funk; instrumental duets by Hobart Dowler and Phyllis Ogilvie and Joyce Ritter and Melanie Handley, and Mr. and Mrs. George Church sang a duet.

The same program committee was retained for another year and the committee on plans for next year's reunion appointed were Mr. David Whiteside, Mr. Amer Whiteside and Mr. Alvin Writsell.

The same officers also retained for next year are: president, Mr. Edward Whiteside; vice president, George Graham, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Mary W. Looker. Members of the family from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whiteside and son, Lawrence of St. Petersburg, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. John Wells of Berkeley, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitaker and family and Mr. Herbert Whiteside of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whitaker and son, Jack, and Mrs. Louella McCrea of Ada; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Toops of Upper Sandusky; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McCrea, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Dowler, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sulser, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ogilvie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whiteside and niece, Karen Funk, Mr. Charles Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Aloa Whiteside and family and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiteside of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Barnhart and family of Ganesville; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and son, Victor of Chicago, Illinois.

26,000 Attended Clinton Co. Fair

An estimated 26,000 attended the Clinton County Fair last week, the largest since 1948 with 1,500 more paying customers than attended during the 1952 Fair.

Total paid attendance was 16,668 with an additional 10,000 attending on exhibitor, concession membership and 4-H tickets.

The largest crowd of the week attended the Jack Kochman automobile thrill show Saturday night to a filled grandstand. The next largest crowd viewed the one performance of the Sesquicentennial pageant Friday night. Total paid attendance Saturday was 2,961.

DROWNS IN WELL

HOW I LOST 66 LBS. WITHOUT DIETING

BUYRUS, OHIO—"I used Renna Concentrate for six months, and lost 66 lbs. It's wonderful, because I never had to go hungry while losing this weight," writes Ruth Riley, 530 Park Ave. "I am 50 years of age, and my health is greatly improved. I can't praise Renna enough for what it has done for me."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose pounds of bulky fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's no trouble and costs little. Ask your druggist for Renna. Costs only $1.40.

your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid Renna Concentrate. Pour this into pint bottle and add unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. It's that simple. If reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic with the first bottle, return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how bloated disappears—how much better you feel. Now is the time to reduce. Ask your druggist for Renna. Costs only $1.40.

Visitors From Distant Lands Will Be Greeted Here During Field Days

Fayette Countians and others attending the state plowing matches and Field Days here, Sept. 8th and 9th, at the Fayette Hereford Ranch will have another opportunity to meet in person some visitors from distant lands.

An international panel on agriculture and world food needs is being planned as one of the features of the women's program on the second day of the state-wide event here.

Plans are not well enough along as yet to list the names of those who will participate in this year's Field Day panel, and the current crop of "Iffie" students from Ohio will not be back home in time to appear, but a lively and informative program is expected.

TWO YEARS AGO, when the district plowing matches were held in this county, such a panel was presented, featuring representatives of four widely varying countries: Miss Ming Wong, of China, who was a student at Wilmington College; Miss Sigrid Schaal, an exchange student from Germany; Felix Borek, Polish student at Harvard, taking some special rural training at Wilmington College during the summer; and Richard Taylor, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, who was an exchange student to Greece.

These young people, and thousands like them, have been termed the world's finest ambassadors of good will. At any given time there are more than 25,000 foreign students in this nation's colleges and universities, plus the innumerable other visitors who are granted temporary visiting privileges to study some phase of American life.

One of the outstanding programs of student exchange is the International Farm Youth Exchange, more commonly known as the I.F.Y.E. or "Iffie" program. Miss Sigrid Schaal from the 1951 Field Day panel is typical of this exchange. Miss Schaal was a guest for three weeks in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Christopher, of this city, as a part of her American visit. During her stay, the Christophers gave her every opportunity to attend many and varied meetings, study 4-H club work, meet local people and come to understand our way of life.

THE ATTRACTIVE blond visitor made many friends in Fayette County, and still corresponds with the Christophers; she hopes to return some day to see them again. She continued her education after her return home, majoring in child development, youth leadership, education, psychology, and industrial arts. It is hard to say how many of her fellow countrymen have heard her account of her trip, but her letters indicate that after six months had elapsed, she was still going strong, addressing meetings and praising American friendliness.

Last winter two German agricultural leaders were guests in the C. Elton Rhoad home, on Leesburg Road. Their primary interest was agricultural technique, but they also looked in on rural recreation and other phases of local community life.

Another Fayette County international visitor was Christian Middlestrauss of Germany, a 25-year-old Ohio State University student, who spent last Thanksgiving vacation at the home of County Agent and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery. He was spending a full year at O.S.U., studying economics and agriculture.

AT THE PRESENT time, the National Grange is completing the placement of 97 German boys and girls of senior high school age, for a full year of living in rural homes, as members of typical American families. They will continue their high school education, and return, as do all of these "goodwill ambassadors," to spread the word of life in a democracy under the bill of rights.

It is of particular importance to residents of Fayette and other rural counties throughout America that every guest from overseas be given a chance to spend some time in rural areas. Proud though we may be of our major cities, no picture of this nation would be complete without a good look at the open countryside.

Certainly the many foreign men, women and young folks who have tarried in Fayette County, whether for a prolonged stay, or for a one-day tour of the county, with panel appearances at one or more of the schools, will carry away a pleasant memory of hospitality, fertile fields, handsome livestock, and families who are enjoying abundant living.

Mercury Tumbles To 48 Degrees Here

The mercury dropped to 48 degrees Monday night for the coolest night since early summer. The temperature had climbed to only 56 by 8 A. M. Tuesday.

The drop of 32 degrees from the peak of 80 Monday, came early in the night, and top coats were in evidence during the night.

The cooler weather apparently came in from Canada, and was welcomed here generally, following a long siege of hot weather which started in June, resulting in many days reaching 90 degrees or higher here.

A year ago the peak was 79 degrees and low was 63 for the same date.

Checker Players To Meet At Newark

Here's an opportunity for the champ checker players of this community to try their skill in a state tournament, which will be held Sept. 5 and 6 at the YMCA in Newark.

There will be two divisions, majors and minors, and sizeable purses for the winner in each division. First, second and third will be recognized from each division.

Accommodations are being made for 50 players, and registrations are to be made with William Hughes, 100 Norwood Avenue, Newark, or to the Newark YMCA.

Britain has 11 telephones, five cars and 22 radios for each 100 people compared with 3 radios, 1 telephone and 1-10 car for each 100 Russians.

Steel Supply Balance Seen By Industry

For First Time Since 1949, Orders Starting To Come In Slowly

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The great steel jam may be cracking up at last. Orders are coming into the mills a little slower. A few cancellations have been reported. For the first time since 1949 a balance in supply and demand appears in sight.

Customers of the copper, zinc and lead producers also are reported showing caution in placing orders very far ahead. Here the great uncertainty is price with world markets unsettled.

In steel the easing comes from many sources. Farm incomes have fallen as prices skidded. So farmers aren't buying farm machinery the way they were. And the makers of farm machinery are laying off workers, and cancelling future orders for steel.

The big General Motors fire at its Livonia, Mich., transmission plant is crippling three of its auto making divisions. Output cutbacks there may cut steel orders for later in the year.

Military tank and truck production is being cut back, lessening demand for steel from that quarter.

The weekly magazine Steel notes today the bottleneck in hot-rolled carbon steel bars is beginning to crack and "may herald the return soon of a ready availability of most forms of steel."

The bars are most universally used form of steel, the magazine points out. "Almost every end product made of steel contains some amount of a hot-rolled bar or its descendant, the cold-finished bar," Steel says.

Steel scrap prices are showing some softness. This market is widely accepted as an indicator of future steel business.

One of the big reasons for steel finally swinging toward balance of supply and demand, of course, is the increasing supply. The great postwar expansion program of the steel industry has added impressively to the total capacity of the nation's steel mills. Newer and more efficient mills are pouring out a record tonnage.

But the steel mills aren't worried—at least the larger companies aren't. They have big customers still going strong. The construction industry is putting up more buildings this year than ever before—fewer homes, perhaps, but more office and store buildings, more industrial plants. Big highway projects are in the works. So are institutions like hospitals and schools.

Printing Office Aide's Wife Said Commie

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former FBI undercover agent today identified Esther Rothschild, wife of a government printing office employee, as an active worker for Communist Party organizations in the late 1940s.

Mrs. Mary Markward of Silver Spring, Md., who said she associated with Communists and reported to the FBI, pointed to Mrs. Rothschild at a Senate hearing and said she "most definitely" knew her in the Communist movement.

Under questioning, Mrs. Markward said she could not say, however, whether Edward Rothschild, husband of Mrs. Rothschild, was a member of the Communist Party.

Mrs. Markward was the first witness in public hearings by the Senate investigations subcommittee into alleged leaking of secret data from the government's printing plant.

Theater Magnate Dies At Age 77

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Michael Gore, 77, a Russian immigrant who rose from virtual poverty to become one of the nation's wealthy theater magnates, died yesterday, just four months after the death of his wife Celia.

Gore came to the United States 67 years ago and in his youth was in the cigar business in Chicago.

said at the outset the matter is one of "alleged espionage."

Among other things, he said testimony had been received that a printing office employee named as a Communist had had access to "top secret material having to do with the A-bomb and the H-bomb."

A spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said that none of its secret data was sent to the main government printing office, but McCarthy said officials of the printing office and representatives of the Navy testified otherwise.

This year people like you will use 30 BILLION tin cans!

Every day 80 million tin cans are opened by people in the United States. This year the canning industry will use 3 1/2 million tons of tinplate and will fill a total of 30 billion cans with everything from "soup to nuts."

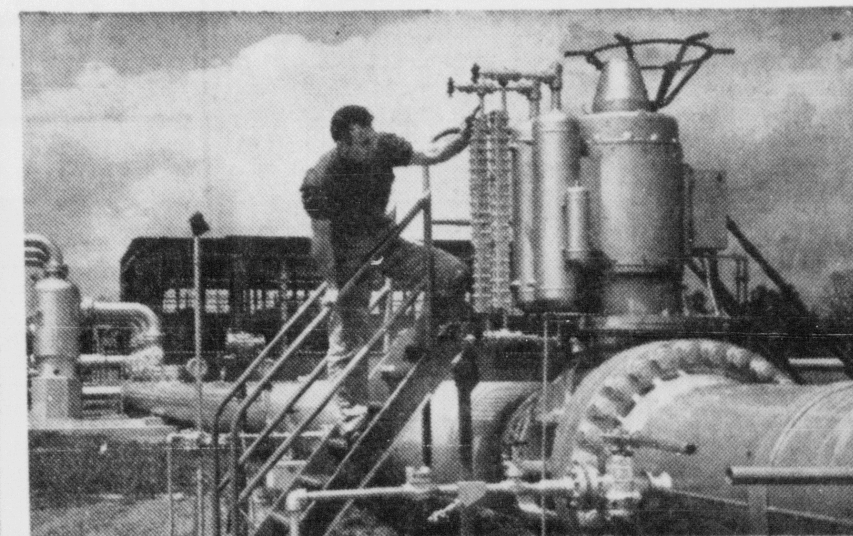

Tinplate is really steel that has been coated with tin. To do the job economically, steel, rolled in continuous strips at a mile-a-minute clip, is first annealed by intense and closely controlled heat. Gas-fired furnaces are used in this process because they do the job faster, better and cheaper than former methods. Gas is one big reason why tin is so cheaply and abundantly produced. Gas heat is used by many food canners, too, for processing foods you buy from your grocer's shelves.

COMPANIES SERVED BY TEXAS EASTERN SERVE YOU

Every seven minutes, seven miles of steel strip comes from Weirton's No. 6 Cold Reducing Tandem Mill. Enough steel is produced in eight hours to make more than five million of the familiar No. 2 cans. The Weirton Steel Company, Weirton, West Virginia, is a customer of Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., which is supplied gas by Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

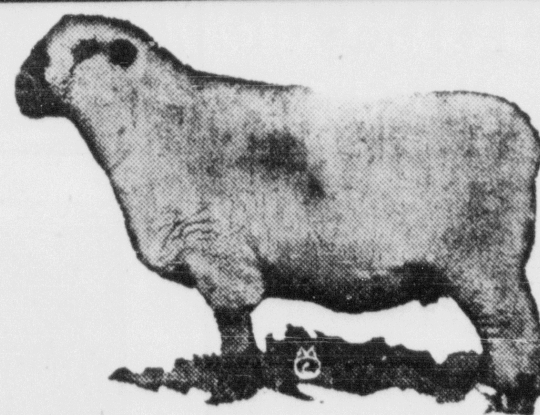

Approximately 1.2 billion cubic feet of natural gas per day is moved through Texas Eastern's 4200-mile pipeline system. Thirty-six compressor stations, like the one at Gladeville, Tenn., speed gas to the Midwest and Atlantic Seaboard.

The 17th Star Plans Announced

Will Be Given At The State Fair

Those who see "The 17th Star," the symphonic drama to be presented in front of the grandstand on the Ohio State Fairgrounds nightly, August 27th through September 7th, are going to meet a lot of Ohioans who'd been strangers—up to that time.

For instance, in one scene, the "Buckeye Hoedown," they're going to be introduced, in lilt ing, rhythmic and hilarious manner to such people as "Lena From Xenia," "Gina From Toledo" and "McCluskey from Sandusky."

All this will be done in a rousing song written for the scene by Isaac Van Grove, the celebrated composer and conductor who has written the music for "The 17th Star."

This scene, one of the highlights of the show, will feature a giant dance in which more than 200 people will participate—including Lena, Gina and, of course, McCluskey.

In charge of all dances for "The 17th Star," which was written by Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Paul Green, is Joan Woodruff, who has created specialties for such "17th Star" characters as Johnny Appleseed and Mike Fink, as well as for the hundreds of others, from savage Indian to tearing twenties flapper, who played a part in Ohio's history.

Gene Lockhart, the Broadway, Hollywood and Television star, and Richard Humphrey, the base-bartone of "Guys and Dolls" fame, will join 500 Ohioans in the cast of "The 17th Star."

Tickets for all 12 performances of "The 17th Star" are now on sale.

Hobby Club Meets On Friday Evening

Nathaniel Tway, president of the Fayette County Hobby Club, has announced the next regular meeting of the club for Friday at 6:30 P. M., at the Record-Herald club rooms.

It will be a covered dish supper meeting, with business session and display of hobby objects and their history.

The session promises to be an interesting one.

POWs Plot

rose from that camp of 1600 men in Camp 5.

There was complete silence from the officers.

I was the prize reactionary.

But when I hit the hole, and shall be ever grateful for this, the officers, with whom I had been quartered, sent a petition to the Reds saying that I was down to 125 pounds and they did not think I could survive a six-month sentence in the hole.

Well, after that the Communists would bring me out of the hole, in which neither of us could stand up, lie down or relax, and they suggested that I write to my correspondent friends at Panmunjom and my newspaper friends, including some publishers in the United States.

They put 60 watt lights in my face. They wanted strictly favorable propaganda. That is Communism.

The Communists — they are bastards.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. McClain

Last rites were held for one of the oldest residents of the county, Mrs. Elizabeth McClain, at 3 P. M. Saturday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

The services were conducted by Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church. He read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the sermon and paid a fine tribute to Mrs. McClain.

The floral tributes were cared for by the pallbearers who were Owen Knisley, Harold Knisley, Warren Campbell, Robert Adams, Paul DeLong and Lester Gard.

Burial was in the family lot of the New Holland Cemetery.

Yankees, Bums Seeking 100 Victories Each

Both Teams Can Lose 17 Games And Chalk Up Coveted Record

By The Associated Press
Now that the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers virtually have run off and hidden from the rest of the clubs, they're working on a little intramural competition to hold their interest.

Their new goal is 100 victories each, well within range but still a mark that will keep them hustling.

The Dodgers with 39 games left need to win 22 to hit the century mark—a figure reached by only two other Brooklyn clubs in history. The Yankees will have to win 21 of their last 38. Yankee teams in the past have reached 100 or more eight times, but not in the last 11 years.

Both the Yankees and Dodgers fattened their margins over their nearest rivals last night. The New Yorkers won a pair of one-sided games from Philadelphia 10-3 and 9-0 and moved nine games in front of the idle Chicago White Sox.

Brooklyn came from behind on Duke Snider's two-run homer in the ninth and then beat Pittsburgh 5-2 on Gil Hodges' three-run blast in the 11th. The Dodgers gained half a game on the unscheduled Milwaukee Braves and lead by 8½ games.

In the only other activity the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies split a pair in the privacy of the spacious Polo Grounds. Only 2,885 cash customers watched the Phils win the first game 5-2 and bow in the second 6-0.

The Phils clinched the first game with four runs in the eighth inning off Dave Koslo, who had started his first game since June 23. The Giants took the nightcap from Andy Hansen, who was making his first start in three years. Johnny Lindell tamed the Dodgers on three hits until Bobby Morgan opened the ninth with a single and Snider followed on the next pitch with his 28th homer. In the 11th Lindell got into immediate trouble by walking Snider and Jackie Robinson and running the count to 3 and 1 on Hodges. The big first baseman then found the left field stands with his 26th home run.

Yogi Berra hit his 21st home run in the Yankees' first-game romp. Whitey Ford picked up his 15th victory, tops on the New York mound staff, but he had to have help from Tom Gorman in the seventh. In the second game the Yankees opened with five runs, more than enough for Bob Kuzava, who scattered 11 hits effectively enough to score a shutout.

It All Happened Over Dead Duck

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Everything was ducky until Ducky Sue — a fowl of questionable temperament — came between neighbors.

Ducky Sue belonged to Joseph Hajj; that is, he did until Jack Stewart dispatched Sue to duck heaven. Stewart said he killed the bird after she nipped his infant daughter's fingers. Hajj said nonsense, the duck was the pet of his two daughters and had never nipped their fingers.

By the time several squad cars arrived on the scene, police reported Stewart was struck on the head by a stove grate. Hajj's wife was wielding kitchen utensils, and Stewart's wife countered with a garden hose.

Stewart planned to charge Hajj with assault and battery. Hajj said he would do the same for Stewart. All over one dead duck.

Tournament Starts Tonight To Decide Men's "Host" Team

The tournament to decide who will be the host team for the men's regional softball tournament, to be held here on September 4, 5, 6 and 7, will get under way tonight with a doubleheader scheduled at Wilson Field.

Only teams in Fayette County will be allowed to take part in this tournament to decide the host team's team. There will be eight teams fighting for the honor, NCR, Cardinals, Don Wood, Pennington, Rocking Chair, American Legion, DP&L and Armbrust.

Tonight's schedule will have the NCR playing Armbrust at 7 P. M. and Don Wood playing Pennington at 8 P. M.

The tourney will be single elimination. The winner of the tourney will be decided Thursday night when a triple header will be played.

Only one team has dropped out of the race for host team for the regional tourney. Armco players said they couldn't keep a team together to take part.

Wednesday night's schedule will have the Rocking Chair Inn playing the American Legion at 7 P. M. and the DP&L playing Armbrust at 8 P. M. Thursday night, the winner of Tuesday's games will play at 7 P. M. and then the winner of Wednesday's game will play at 8 P. M. The deciding game will be played at 9 P. M. Thursday.

In the regional tournament, which is double elimination, the state softball champs from Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia will be the city champs from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit and Pittsburgh and the host team will take part. This tourney will also be held at Wilson Field.

The women's four-state regional tourney will begin this Friday and last through Monday. Host team will be the Washington C. H. Warner's girls team.

The winner of the tourney will be decided Thursday night when a triple header will be played.

DP&L Wins Over Armbrust

Three Way Tie Now In Industrial League

The race for the city championship of the Industrial Softball League was thrown into a three way tie when the Dayton Power and Light team ran over the Armbrust team in a game Monday night at Wilson Field, 8 to 3.

If Armbrust had won the game, the league race would have been over and Armbrust would have been the champions. The winner of the league won't be decided now until after the women's regional softball tournament is over next week. Tied for the number one spot are DP&L, Armbrust and the Rocking Chair Inn.

The winner of the Fast Ball League was the Top Hats from Circleville, some time ago.

DP&L took an early lead in the game last night. In the first inning it scored two runs on two walks and one error. Armbrust picked up its first tally in the third frame and added the other two in the last inning.

The "Light" boys scored two runs each in the sixth and seventh innings. Bryant led the winners in the hitting department with two safeties in four trips to the plate.

Armbrust was limited to only four hits by the winning pitcher, Jack Reno. Johnson was charged with the defeat. Johnson collected two of his team's hits.

Los Angeles Given Chance For Club

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Veech has promised Los Angeles officials that if they can purchase the local baseball park, the American League will permit him to bring the St. Louis Browns' major league franchise here next year, the Los Angeles Times said today.

The park is owned by P. K. Wrigley, who holds the franchise both for the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League and the Chicago Cubs of the National League. Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Times, said Veech made his proposition to authorities here during a recent visit.

NCAA Raps Knuckles Of 3 Colleges

CHICAGO (AP)—With the names of mighty Notre Dame and Michigan State added to its disciplinary list, the National Collegiate Athletic Association turned to other investigations today.

A spokesman said five more unidentified schools are involved in charges of violating the NCAA's athletic code but that investigations are incomplete.

Notre Dame, along with Michigan State and Arizona State, was reprimanded by the NCAA's 17-man policy-making council yesterday.

Michigan State already had been put on probation by the Big Ten conference because of the activities of an off-campus "foundation" which allegedly aided athletes. The council said it supported this action.

All three schools were cited for permitting campus tryouts of prospective athletes. Neither Notre Dame nor Michigan State received any specific punishment but Arizona State, at Tempe, was put on two years' probation.

In addition to permitting tryouts, the Arizona school was charged with permitting pay to athletes. As a further punishment, all its athletes were ruled ineligible for NCAA championship events for the 1953-54 school year.

Notre Dame and Arizona State admitted doing wrong but grumbled about the severity of the NCAA's action. Michigan State, which protested loudly after the Big Ten's probation was announced reacted mildly to the NCAA pronouncement.

Amateur Clay Target Shoot Gets Underway

VANDALIA (AP)—Trapshooting's most coveted title, the Amateur Clay Target Championship of America, was at stake today as the 54th Grand American rolled into its second day.

The shooters aim at 200 targets at 16 yards. Perfect score has been necessary to win it the last six years. Rudy Etchen of Ketchum, Idaho, last year's champion, will not defend his title.

The experts have a good chance to win because the entire field, expected to be around 1,000, fires from the 16-yard mark. In the handicap events still to come, the top fliers are handicapped back as far as 25 yards which usually means the up-front novices win.

The North American titles for men, women, juniors from 15-18, sub-juniors under 15 and professionals were to be decided. An entry fee of $25 will be paid by each contestant and each may pay an other $35 in an optional system which boosts the prize money.

Along with the 200-target event the male champion of each state, Canadian province, the Canal Zone, Cuba and Alaska will meet in a 100-target race.

Julian Petty of Stuttgart, Ark., scored 95 of 100 to become men's doubles champion of champions yesterday.

Young Man Strolls Into Bank Nude

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Probably nobody told Francois Fisher that the nudist convention in Southern California ended a week ago.

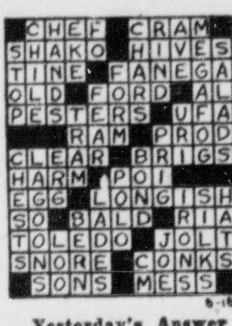

He walked into a bank here yesterday clad only in his imagination. But as Francois is only 3 years old, bank employees fashioned him some zootie shorts out of a money bag.

When Mrs. Edmund Fisher finally caught up with her son, she said, "This is the fifth time he's run away in his birthday suit."

Hospital To Build Special Storage Room

New Requirements For Handling Oxygen Tanks at Institution

A special loading platform and building, especially designed for storage facilities for oxygen tanks is to be constructed at a near future date at the Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

The heavy increase in the use of oxygen at the hospital for patients in the last year and a half, has created a problem in finding satisfactory and safe place to properly take care of the many tanks, which necessarily have to be handled with care.

When the hospital was first constructed it was not expected that this problem would arise, since as many as 10 tanks were kept in a convenient spot near the emergency room.

Now however, with oxygen being delivered at the rate of as many as 50 to 60 tanks weekly, the problem of storage for quick delivery and use in various patient areas of the hospital, required changes.

At the regular board of hospital trustees' meeting Monday night, the three county commissioners, Ralph Minton, Cliff Hughes and Robert Cockerill, were asked to sit in with the board for approval of any decision reached. George Seaver, the general contractor who built the present hospital, was present to help survey the places proposed for the improvement and give any advice on construction, asked during the discussion, a 10 x 15 foot platform with roof and brick siding, open at one end, and connecting with the floor of the hospital corridor will be needed.

A COMMITTEE consisting of trustee board members Marilyn Riley, Willard Bitzer and Mrs. Fern Chaffin, had been assigned to study how and what should be done and the committee's work is being continued till it receives estimates on cost of the project. Following this, it is probably that a contract will be let in order to have the platform and small building constructed as quickly as possible. The county commissioners moved the hospital board that they approved of this step for safety and convenience.

Aside from paying bills and routine matters, there was no other business of importance transacted at Monday night's meeting except to make a study of the operating statement for the month of July.

This statement presented by Miss Christene Evans, administrator, showed a total of 334 bed patients using the hospital during the month of July. Of these 231 were adult admissions, 62 newborn infants and 41 carried over from July into August. There were also 288 out-patients, those not requiring bed service, given attention during July. These usually required either emergency room aid, laboratory or X-ray service. There were a total of 1,418 patient days of service.

THE HIGHEST number of patients for bed service any one day in the month was 67. The lowest number was 30.

Major surgical operations during the month numbered 44, with 39 minor operations.

There were 1,764 laboratory examinations during July and 543 X-ray pictures taken.

The report showed the average cost per patient day during the month to be $18.23. The earnings during the month were reported satisfactory and approved by the board.

Two physicians from nearby towns who had made application for staff privileges at the hospital were approved for practice in the institution. These two had been approved previously by the medical staff and the Fayette County Medical Society for this service. They were Dr. Lawrence Robert Corneli of Greenfield, and Dr. Ernest Byrle Cutlip of Frankfort.

4-H Club Activities

The Eager Beavers 4-H club met at the home of Joe Batson on Monday evening to work on the club projects for the Ohio State Fair. Plans were made for "achievement day" when checks will be awarded the club members who won prizes at the Fayette County Fair.

Plans were made to hold the next meeting after the State Fair. Refreshments were served by the host's parents.

Develop Land Judging Plans For Field Day

Definite plans and locations for the land judging or evaluation contest were made Monday on the grounds at the Fayette Herford Ranch.

This feature of the Field Day's program is to be open to 4-H club teams, FFA teams and adult individuals.

County Agent W. W. Montgomery assisted by H. H. Morse, soil scientist of the state Soil Conservation Service, G. K. Dotson, survey supervisor, of the state Department Natural Resources, and George Geist, agronomist, Ohio State University, went over the field east of the general headquarters and located the places for the land judging contest.

Three types of soil, Brookston, Crosby, and Celina will be used in the contest.

Excavations which will allow the study of the soil will be made with a title ditching machine.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Leon Smith

Funeral rites for Mrs. Blanche Lorain Smith, wife of Leon Smith, formerly of Jeffersonville, were held at the Neel Funeral Home in Xenia, Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Mrs. Smith died as the result of a skull fracture and complications three hours after she had fallen down the cellar stairs at her home in Xenia, Saturday.

Rev. Russell Mayer of the First Reformed Church, conducted the services, and interment was made in Woodland Cemetery at Xenia.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Basil Lewis of Dayton, a grandchild and her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith formerly operated a bakery and restaurant in Jeffersonville.

More Speeders Picked Up Here

Most of Them May Forfeit Their Bonds

Quite a number of persons were picked up Monday for too much speed as the result of checking with the electric timer, on Clinton Avenue.

Those arrested on Clinton Avenue, which is one of the most prolific sources of traffic law violations were:

Lawrence E. Gill, city; Lawrence C. Folinakis, Audubon, N. J.; Herbert Jackson, Cincinnati; Neville Dunn, Sabina; Donald Stock, Elyria; Cecil H. Scherzinger, Bowling Green, Ky.; Robert Urban, Dayton; Willie Fortner, Akron and Joseph R. Brown, Wilmington.

The speeds at which the offenders were clocked varied from 40 to 47 miles per hour. The speed limit on Clinton Avenue is 35 miles per hour.

Bonds of $10 were required in each instance, and it is expected that most of those arrested will forfeit their bonds, which is usually done by out-of-towners arrested on traffic charges.

George W. Riley, 23, city, was arrested on a disturbing the peace charge, filed by Florence Andrews.

Funeral Services For William Howell

Rev. Russell Knisley conducted the farewell rites for William Howell, held at 10:30 A. M. Tuesday at the Gregg Street Christian Union Church.

Rev. Knisley offered prayer, read from the Scriptures, read a memoir and delivered the sermon.

Mrs. Neoma Knisley and Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter sang the hymns, "Jesus Is Calling Us," "We Will Understand," and "Beyond The Sunset."

The floral gifts were cared for by the pallbearers, Frank Elzey, Robert Myers, Thomas Myers, Perrill Ater, Hubert Smith and a Garland Wright.

Interment was made in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Driver Is Fined On Two Charges

Earl Daniel Knisley, Greenfield, R. D., drew $50 and costs on a charge of reckless driving, and $25 and costs for driving without a license, when he faced Judge R. L. Brubaker, in municipal court.

His driving privilege also was suspended for six months, and the costs in the second case were suspended.

Knisley was arrested near Good Hope at an early hour Sunday morning after High Patrolman M. E. Brickles had chased him from near the Sugar Creek Stone Quarry on the Greenfield Road, into this city, and down the Good Hope Road before capturing him.

Paul Leister Named To C of C Board To Fill Vacancy

Paul Leister, branch manager of the Pure Oil Company here, was appointed Monday night by Edward Moser, president of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, with the full approval of the board of directors, to fill the unexpired term on the board of the immediate past president, Webber C. French, deceased.

President Moser stated that Leister had been with the Pure Oil Company for 17 years and has been branch manager in Washington C. H. for the past year and a half. He further stated that he felt Leister's interest and enthusiasm for Chamber of Commerce activities would be a definite asset to the organization.

FURTHER business taken up at the board meeting Monday evening was the Audit Committee report submitted by Chairman Albert Bryant, Robert Parish and Paul Van Voorhis, committee members. The report was read by Treasurer Floyd Mitchell. The result of the committee's findings was that the Chamber of Commerce was in a very sound condition financially. The committee was especially complimentary regarding the efficient bookkeeping done by the secretary, Mrs. Rachael Urton.

President Moser presented the new appointments of the various committee chairmen to the board and the functions of each were reviewed by Secretary Edward Kreider.

The retail committee, headed by Thomas Christopher, are meeting this afternoon (Tuesday) to discuss plans for Christmas activities and also to discuss the advisability of setting up a retail promotion program for a year in advance.

Among further committee activities which have been started are by the Civic Affairs Committee, headed by Dr. Charles Griffiths. Dr. Griffiths reported to the board that this committee will meet Tuesday, August 25 at 8 P. M. to discuss the possibility of providing for off-street parking in the city of Washington C. H.

DR. GRIFFITHS stated that it was the desire of this committee to study and lend any assistance desired to the city officials in the progressive development of Washington C. H.

Robert Terhune, chairman of the Green Pastures Committee, reported that a judging group had made some preliminary visits to the participating farms in this county and that they planned to hold a more formal judging around the middle of September.

Secretary Kreider reported that there were very few delinquent members, which, he stated, is a good indication of the confidence the members are placing in the Chamber of Commerce.

ACTION was unanimously approved by the Board of Directors to secure photographs of all past presidents for display in the Chamber of Commerce board room. This was by way of a tribute to the immediate past president, Webber C. French, and the energies of Ray Brandenburg, Harold H. Denton, Belford Carpenter, Gilbert Crouse, Alfred E. Weatherly and Joseph Peters who have served in that office since the Chamber of Commerce formal

Polio Victim Being Treated

Pearl Knisley Sent To Columbus Hospital

Pearl Knisley, 29, residing at 1110 East Temple Street, this city, has been admitted to the Children's Hospital in Columbus as a polio case.

This is the second definitely diagnosed case reported in Fayette County this year.

According to a spokesman for the Fayette County Health Department Knisley's case is reported to be of a mild character of the paralytic type, involving only his right arm.

Immune globulin has been administered to Mr. Knisley's wife and four children.

Health authorities here say it should be distinctly understood that immune globulin cannot be obtained in sufficient amounts to inject every person who is in contact with a known case of poliomyelitis. Only family household contacts over the age of three months and under the age of thirty years and pregnant women of any age, can be given this immune globulin.

charter was presented on September 17, 1945.

Those present at Monday night's meeting were Charles Rankin, Scott Harner, Harris Willis, Eddie Kirk, James Carter, Robert Terhune, Ed Kreider, Ed Moser, Howard Wright, Robert Helfrich, Floyd Mitchell, Willis Coffman, Robert Olinger and Dr. Charles Griffiths.
